SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1862

Our Friends over the River

Our friends in Clarke county did a capital business at the late election. Just [illegible] a year ago all the democratic ticket for the Legislature was elected by a decided majority and Garfield, their candidate for Congress beat the Union candidate seventy one votes. We doubt not that some Union men voted for Garfield. This year the Union men have elected just half of the Legislative ticket. To be more particular, last year Garfield, disunion received a majority of seventy one votes in the county, and this year Cochran, Union man, obtained thirty one majority showing a change of one hundred and two votes in favor of the Union candidate since the election of 1861.

These facts show a great and gratifying change in public sentiment. The people are always honest, though they may be misled. We hope yet to see a movement among the remnant of the Hudson's Bay Company's men in favor of the Union and Government. We are sure they would not vote against them if they understood the issues on which they voted. The disunion men consider them the rock of their hope. They would spurn the contact if they understood the designs of those who claim to be their political friends. The Union men should regard them with charity "They know not what they do."

We repeat that our friends, as a general thing, have done well in the late election all over the Territory. They have presented us with an earnest of what they will do hereafter.

We may be assured that the late election in truth, is but the skirmish of the advanced guard before the battle which is to come off in July, 1863. Let every true Union man in Washington Territory keep his armor burnished for that battle which is to decide the position of Washington Territory in relation to the General Government for a long time to come.

VACANT LANDS.—Since the publication of our remarks relative to the chances for the anticipated immigration this fall to obtain homes, we have conversed with several gentlemen who have long been residents of the country, and who are quite familiar with its geography and natural advantages and they have informed us that there yet remains sufficent vacant Government and school lands in Oregon, west of the Cascade mountains to furnish good and comfortable homes and farms for more than 100,000 inhabitants. It is not probably known but by few persons that there is more than 40,000 acres of arable lands lying vacant within twenty five miles of this city, all of which is susceptible of immediate improvement, and good farms can be opened thereon with comparatively slight cost. This tract lies in a south westerly direction from this place, with a good road opened and routes for others surveyed and located. There are also many sections of school lands for sale in Clackamas county and will probably be in Multnomah county ere long, upon very reasonable terms. The price fixed upon school lands in Clackamas county is the small sum of $2 per acre, one third of which is required to be paid in advance and the remainder within three years. A farmer can by this arrangement, procure a quarter section at very reasonable rates and upon easy terms, while sufficient time will be given for him to realize sufficient income from the land itself to pay the remaining portion of purchase money due.

We believe that the School lands of this county, (Multnomah) have not yet been offered for sale, but presume they will be before long, when many acres can be obtained for farming purposes and which will admit of quite an addition to our farming population. There are also many [illegible] who have large tracts of uncultivated lands which we are informed can be purchased at fair prices. We are confident [illegible] comfortable homes can be obtained [illegible] in a reasonable distance [illegible] and as the settlement near [illegible] and in this instance the only [illegible] in Oregon, is generally and should be the first consideration of all who desire [illegible] permanent homes in Oregon [illegible] earnestly ask all who may [illegible] look well around the country [illegible] going farther back or into less advantageous localities. More anon.

We are requested to announce that Bishop Simpson will preach in the M. E. Church tomorrow (Sunday) at 10 o'clock A. M.

Letter from Florence City

FLORENCE, July [illegible] 1862

EDITOR [illegible]—A few lines from a citizen of this [illegible] since the first log cabin was built on the ground may not be uninteresting to your readers. Since that time until the present we have been running on a line of changes, lights and shades, prosperity and adversity.

The severity of the winter here I will not attempt to describe. You have heard something of it, but its bearing on some of our citizens who were unprepared to meet such protracted hardship [illegible] thoughtless exaggerated accounts [illegible] induced the people that they [illegible] the diggings not only in hundreds but in thousands, some bringing provisions [illegible] themselves for a few weeks and many [illegible] bringing none and thus [illegible] any supply could be brought into the market [illegible] the demand so it went so far beyond the supply on hand that literal starvation and destitution was to a great extent the consequence. On the 10th of May the first pack train [illegible] into town but even then the enormous price of everything did not change things much for the better. Any article [illegible] from one dollar up to two and a half a pound and for several weeks the demand could hardly be supplied even at that [illegible] such numbers had the people flocked into the [illegible] not a light estimate to reckon that [illegible] thousand persons were all in these diggings at one time the fewest number of which [illegible] employed or had any prospect of being employed at any useful labor here. Excitement after excitement was got up that rich diggings had been found which [illegible] town of the [illegible] its streets daily [illegible] night and from night till morning [illegible] the gambling saloons to suffocation. But these excitements having all proved [illegible] many heartless delusions many of the [illegible] left altogether, so that our little town would appear if contrasted with what it was a month ago to be to some extent deserted [illegible] this until half the number of people in the diggings will be falling away. The country all around for forty or fifty miles has been prospected extensively and no new diggings found that would pay. I have been on a prospecting tour of fifteen days [illegible] among the mountains in company with several old California miners but could find nothing in the shape of new diggings. I have had a claim that paid pretty well but most of the claims that were worth much have been worked nearly out except a few on Sand creek. But there are still several good paying claims in some of the gulches that have no water to sluice with and don't pay well with the rocker. Many of these will be worked with the rocker as long as this will pay wages or near it and when water comes again for sluicing they will pay big.

Any man who has been here during the season may thank his luck if he has not been shaved or swindled in some way or other. I was in the mines since [illegible] in California, Frazer River and Oro Fino before coming to these diggings, but for open barefaced lying, swindling, betraying of trust and confidence and for every artifice to cheat and defraud whether stranger, friend or relation the Salmon River gold diggings surpass all that I ever saw, and goes beyond all and everything I could have imagined man guilty of to his fellow-men in these disreputable practices.—And yet you don't find any one the richer for it, somehow—in fact it is the fewest number leaving that take any money with them. Many claims have been deserted for want of water to sluice with as they won't pay with the rocker and such will be increasing in number from this time on during the fall but as soon as winter returns there is no doubt but the mining will be resumed extensively as much of the old dirt that was thrown aside after being washed, will pay a high percentage over wages when run through the sluice again. The new road from the Camas Prairie is now fairly open, and affords great advantages to packers and traders over those of the mountain road and as a consequence provisions are reduced in price. Although our population has greatly diminished there are still some houses going up and business appears to be going ahead. There is considerable sickness and some deaths among us but we have any amount of Doctors. I believe our little village can boast of about thirteen regular physicians who have their shingle out, ready and willing to defy the grim monster to his face. By the way the friends of Dr. Noble of Oregon City will be pained to learn that that gentleman met with a very severe accident a week or so ago. As I learn the Dr. was riding a large American horse and when on a steep sidling trail was met by a return train of loose Cayuse horses when his horse became frightened, plunged desperately and fell rolling over the Dr. badly bruising one of his legs from the ankle to above his knee and breaking three ribs on his left side. His escape being almost crushed to death is said by those with him at the time, to have been almost miraculous. Dr. Noble is a most exemplary citizen and as a talented and successful physician and [illegible] [illegible] he deservedly stands [illegible] just been recovering from the effects of the hardships and privations of our long and gloomy winter when this accident occurred. I learn that he is recovering slowly.

Many of our miners are proposing to [illegible] out. This is known by the miners [illegible] that are reporting their claims [illegible] big" and declaring "don't say anything that only for some urgent reason or cause they would not sell for any money.

The weather is dry with generally a brisk wind and with thunder and lightning. Our election for county officers [illegible] two weeks. EARTHQUAKES IN SUMATRA.—In the Dutch territories on the west coast of Sumatra and in the islands lying off it earthquakes of extensive strength took place in February and March. Great destruction was every where [illegible] and many lives lost. On the island of Nias a military post was completely swept away by the sea and [illegible] several of the garrison lost. On the island of Sonu almost the whole of the houses were destroyed, and out of a population of about 1,400 nearly 800 perished. A fearful eruption of the volcano on the island of Makian, about thirty-five English miles from Ternate, had caused the loss of many hundred lives and destroyed the whole vegetation.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store [illegible]

ARRIVED.—The steamship Pacific arrived [illegible] wharf last evening about [illegible] o'clock, bringing dates from San Francisco to July [illegible], but no later news from the East. We [illegible] to receive files of California papers by Wells, Fargo & Co. [illegible] we believe our contemporaries were more fortunate. [illegible] by the kindness of a friend we were abundantly supplied with the latest dates. From the Alta of the 20th we learn that no dispatches had been received since the 18th, but it was thought that the telegraph line would be in working order by Tuesday morning. The Evening Bulletin of the 21st contains nothing later, and no cause given for delay. We shall probably receive dispatches to-night by stage from Yreka. Our items of California news will be found under the appropriate head.

PASSENGERS.—Steamship P[illegible] [illegible] M. Burns, commander, left San Francisco July 21st, at [illegible] M. Crossed Columbia Bar on the 24th at 8 P. M. Arrived at Fort Vancouver on the [illegible] Arrived at 4:30 [illegible]

PASSENGERS.—[illegible] and family, Mr. Knox, Mrs. Dougherty, Miss [illegible] Davis, Mrs. [illegible] and child, Rev. [illegible], J. Gorman, J. W. [illegible] Alex. [illegible], Bishop Blanchet [illegible] Moore, A. Haas [illegible] Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger, and [illegible] others.

ALARM OF FIRE.—An alarm of fire was given about nine o'clock last night, and some of the boys took a little run up town just by way of exercise, though we heard some of them express an abrupt exclamation that no fire was to be found except within the proper bounds. The alarm was occasioned by the burning of a window curtain in a building opposite the Times office.

"THERE SHE BLOWS AGAIN."—"My paper" round the corner is on the "blow" again, as seen from its sensation news head in yesterday morning's issue, in which is announced the startling fact that "my paper" had received "special telegraphic dispatches via Yreka," "from the Sacramento Union of the 18th inst." This must certainly be a new "kick" in newspaper headings for "War News," as it is well known that the Sacramento Union does not even exchange with "my paper"—hence, the announcement that the Union had sent special telegraphic intelligence "via" Yreka to "my paper" takes us by slight surprise. We knew that the individual who runs "my paper" is famed for frequently obtaining things from mysterious sources, but this is a species of boldness that we were not exactly prepared to witness. What shall we expect next?

WILLAMETTE THEATRE.—There was a fair audience at the Theatre last evening, and the performance quite amusing and entertaining. Planche's Comedy, in three acts, entitled The Pride of the Market, will be given to-night, in which Mr. John Wood will appear as "Isadore Farine," and Miss Belle Divine as "Marton." An excellent programme is offered, which will doubtless excel any previous evening, and which will draw a crowded house; hence, those desiring reserved seats should secure them at an early hour.

ENGAGED.—We are pleased to learn that Miss Virginia Lawrence, "Portland's Favorite," has been engaged by Messrs. Bell & Potter, and that she will appear to-night at Willamette Theatre, and delight the audience with a favorite ballad. We deem it unnecessary to say that this announcement will be sufficient to attract a large audience, and when we further announce that Miss Belle Divine will also sing upon this occasion, we are sure that there will be a crowded house.

FALLING OF A BRIDGE.—A bridge across a deep gulch on the road near the Penitentiary fell yesterday evening, under the weight of a band of cattle, killing one cow and injuring several others of the drove.

Information Wanted!

PORTLAND, July 25, 1862

Editor Oregonian:

The undersigned, believing the time has arrived that his lots on the corner of Salmon and Third streets should appear under a new fence, is desirous of knowing where or unto whom he shall apply for information whether to build said fence on the North or South side of Salmon street as it is now located. Will you, or any of our city officials give the required information, and oblige an old resident.

Truly yours, W. WEATHERFORD

The Markets.

Trade has been rather slack during the past week, and orders from above are light. Not much demand for any particular article in the market. This is mainly attributable to usual fluctuations attending all markets which furnish supplies to mining regions—one day up and the next day down. There is it is quite probable that before another week passes material changes may be felt, and the demand become greater than the supply. At present our merchants have large amounts of supplies on hand, especially of domestic produce. There has been an unusual rush in upon the market during the past ten days of flour and [illegible] from upper Willamette, which has caused considerable decline. We have taken especial pains in the revision of our quotations this week, which farmers and producers can safely rely upon as being as near correct as it is possible to obtain in the present irregular state of purchasing prices. It must be remembered, however, that there is a marked difference between purchasing rates and selling rates, and that perhaps there is no market on the coast where there exists so great a difference in general rates between dealers.

Visions of Life.

(Concluded.)

Life presents many things that amuse us with their diversity; yet it is a heaven of joy that the wearied spirit seeks. Life is only made happy when the immortal part of man is guided by truth's lasting influence. When withdrawn from the world's corroding cares, there comes into the mind some fanciful dream that seems to open a new way to the fountain of wisdom, where the mind may quench its longing thirst for the lasting love. But it is not idle visions that bring true joy; for, as life is not isolated, so it cannot be satisfied by things which have no bearing on its future welfare. The mind, when guided by truth, glances over the past to see if acts done have not some relation to the present, or sends the imagination on its swift pinions into the darksome future, to trace out the connecting link that will hold it in one endless period of celestial joy. Though happiness should occupy the thoughts of life; yet man is too often led by some fanciful vision to look for some Utopian land of pleasure, where joy dispels the clouds of grief, and where life is spent on pleasure's delightful stream. Youth, too, often gives a deaf ear to wisdom's voice, and suffers itself to be that the morning of life may be made beautiful by pleasure's enchanting rays. Man often learns in silent grief, that the disappointments of life are caused by rejecting reason. It has been truly said that "a man is to be reasoned into truth;" for its light comes not like the brilliant flash of the thunder-bolt, which illumines but for a moment, and then leaves a deeper darkness in its once bright course, but dispels the clouds of error, and opens a clearer vision to the realms on high, where the wearied spirit may be ushered in to the bliss of immortal joys. It far exceeds the Promethean fire to guide men in the way of all arts, which are radiant with truth, whilst those who trust in the fanciful visions of their imagination, find that their joys fade away. It is joy to the soul when the thought comes from the fountain of truth, that shall cause the gloomy ways of life to be lit up with immortal light. The desire of men to dream out what lies in the future, make life seem to rest on ideal themes, until man wastes away under imaginary evils which blast the hopes of life. It is folly to rest existence on the floating joys, or pains that the mind conceives to exist in the future; and which will descend to fill life with delight, or bring scenes of strife.

But true joy is opened to man by the mind moving in the ways of truth, and misery by letting the imagination dive into the deep abyss of futurity, to bring up phantoms of visionary evil, which leave the mind bewildered and veiled in a mystic cloud.

Many rely too much on the visionary pleasures of the future, whilst the future is continually unvailing itself to man, and showing that the cold dews of disappointment chill the spirit of life in all periods.

But it is the joy of immortality that thrills through the mind, warms the heart, and lifts the vail of hope till the visions of celestial pleasures are made the joy of life.

Those who weep over fancied losses will tremble to see the daily cares of life increasing as the gloomy clouds of misfortune rise. Those who are led into the ways of false joys, seek things that only gratify the body, and forsake the inspiring influence of wisdom that enables the mind to guide man into the ways of truth. For unreal joys reach the soul through the senses; but real ones can only flow through the channels of truth. When fancy's visions rise in youth's bright morn, the world invites,

> "And bids us all our unborn powers employ
> To catch the phantoms of ideal joy."

But the mind cannot unfold itself when reason does not inspire the soul till the spirit, clad in holy vesture, tastes the pure celestial pleasures, rises and strengthens in the silent meditations of immortal themes, and is filled with

> "Yearning for wings to reach the fields of Truth, > Mourning for wisdom, panting to be free."

But when grief falls on man beyond his power to avert, there is not that depression of spirit as when the soul is disappointed by the hope of visionary joys, and is chilled with the cold dews of remorse. For it is only through purity that heavenly joys come, which enable men to behold the ways in which they should walk, that they may come into favor with Him who gives fullness of joy.

Mode of Drying the Common Red Currant.

The currants should be quite ripe when gathered, with the stems attached, and washed or rinsed effectually and drained off. Then stem them and wash them thoroughly, and to each pound of currants add a quarter of a pound of good Havanna sugar; then place them in a preserving kettle over a fire until they come to a scald heat, when they are turned out into white earthen dishes, and exposed to the action of the sun until, by evaporation they become hardened on the upper side. Then they are turned over and there remain until they become so on the other side, and so alternate until they become a sort of leathery texture, when they are put away in earthen jars or boxes until wanted for use.—Care must be taken to keep them from the dews of night and rains during the process of drying; finally, the utmost cleanliness should be observed from first to last.

When used, enough hot water is required to dissolve them or render them to any consistency suitable for tarts, jelly, &c. At the same time more sugar is required to make them quite palatable, which must of course be governed by taste. Currants in this way have kept well with us for three years, and the presumption is, that they will keep for a longer time, if well cared for.—The Horticulturist commends the above to our lady readers as an excellent method of preserving their surplus stock of currants.

☞ A publisher of a newspaper out West, in the first issue of his journal, returns thanks to those who loaned him the pecuniary means, and to Heaven that there is no law in the State enforcing imprisonment for debt.

A WASHINGTON TERRITORY PORT OF ENTRY REMOVED.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, writing June 16th says:

"Congress has this day removed the port of entry for the Puget Sound, Washington Territory District, to the splendid harbor of Port Angelos, opposite the English city of Victoria. The commercial indications are that a large town will grow up at Port Angelos, as the immigration into and the exports from the district are surprisingly large this year. The public lands, embracing the town site, have been secured by the collector of the port, acting as special agent, who is now here, urging the passage of the bill introduced by Senator Harlan on Saturday, entitled 'A bill for increasing the revenue by reservation and sale of town sites.' This is a general law, but it is intended to make the first practical application at Port Angelos."

A Norfolk correspondent tells the following anecdote of Gen. Viele, showing one of the many means of taming secession: A lady came into his office to consult him or demand some favor. He received her with his usual politeness, but suddenly noticing that she wore the Confederate colors prominently, in the shape of a branch, mildly suggested that it would perhaps have been in better taste to come to his office without such decoration. "I have a right, sir, to consult my own wishes as to what I shall wear." "Then, madam," replied the General, "permit me to claim an equal right in choosing with whom I shall converse;" and the dignified lady had to withdraw from his presence.

Foreign News.

The New York correspondent of the London Times points out the difficulties of the present position of the Union forces before Richmond, and contends that the capture of that city will make no difference—it will merely transfer the war further South. He says, the truth is that peaceful separation is the only solution of the difficulty.

The Army and Navy Gazette thinks the battle before Richmond will determine the fate of the campaign in Virginia, but not stop the war. In the meantime there is no chance for intervention or officious offers of mediation.

It is stated that the military force of Canada will soon be reduced to what it was before the Trent affair.

Contrary to the statements in circulation as to the French policy in Mexico, there are various rumors of a possible diplomatic arrangement.

The recognition of Italy by Russia has been telegraphed to Turin.

The Daily News editorially denounces, in sarcasms, the mischievous malignity of the Times for its pharisaical and ill-timed allusion to America in her hour of trouble.

The Morning Star also denounces that journal for its outrage on American sensibilities on the most sacred of all days to the American people. [Fourth of July.] It hopes that Americans will treat the insolence of the un-English writer with disdain, and also says the writer is not more an enemy to this [our] country than a disgrace to his own.

The Epoch, of Madrid, says: "The Spanish Government has received a most satisfactory communication from Washington in regard to the probable effect produced by the disinterested policy which Spain has adopted towards Mexico. The present relations of the Cabinets of Madrid and Washington are most cordial."

OVERLAND EMIGRATION.—A dispatch from Salt Lake, dated July 17th, says that it is estimated that about thirty thousand emigrants are on the road. About one-third of them have passed Fort Laramie. Only a small portion of the California emigration had passed through there at the date of the dispatch. One-third of the whole emigration is going to the Salmon river mines. They leave the California road about one hundred and fifty miles east of Salt Lake.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,
Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War; Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds; Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary; the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Urino-Urinary Organs, and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

OFFICE HOURS—From 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

☞ Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations, by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the Sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females, treated on principles established by [illegible] years of practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington territories, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the [illegible] from the pages of [illegible] former health, and [illegible] their cases and remedies [illegible] authenticated by a Notary Public [illegible] their perusal to the attention of [illegible]

Certificate.—The undersigned [illegible] those who may be [illegible] dicted, [illegible] sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay [illegible] recovery of his health [illegible] symptoms [illegible] weakness of my limbs [illegible] body on the slightest [illegible] others, the incapability [illegible] the frightful, exciting and [illegible] night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of these impostor quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who now stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco;
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventh day of April, A. D. 1856. [Signed]
[L. S.] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June 30, 1853.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine, and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength, yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours,

THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning; and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state and having, previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services; regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
